José Palma worked for us as a product and graphic designer on internationally oriented projects, in particular for the Dutch market.

These projects consisted of developing various garden articles (made of wire at Desimetal) and the respective packaging.

From the initial briefings with the final client (at which the general product outline was presented) to the execution of the prototypes, graphic mock-ups, load calculations and integration into production and packing lines, José Palma showed a creative and innovative attitude and produced formal and functional solutions, both in the area of product and graphic design, that were successful and genuinely differentiating in style.

In all of these projects, José Palma demonstrated the ability to complete and present the various stages defined strategically by the working team (Nuno Moura – Ter Steege - Desimetal) in a clear, thorough and timely fashion and with excellent results over a 2-year period.
